High School Students Told about Vocations At Annual Career Day

MANY TYPES OF OCCUPATIONS were discussed during the career day activities at Washington C. H. High School Tuesday afternoon. One of the most interesting was that of police work. SHOWN ABOVE is Julie Fox, a ninth grader, who wanted to get information on becoming a policewoman. She talks over the possibilities with Patrolman John Wyatt of the state Highway Patrol. (Record-Herald photo)

Some 550 youths at Washington C. H. High School took time out from their academic pursuits Tuesday to get a first-hand report on vocations they are interested in during "Career Day".

Giving the students the report on vocations were some 40 representatives from various fields of endeavor, from Washington C. H., Columbus, Dayton, Wilmington and Springfield.

As consultants, these leaders in their respective fields, were able to tell about such considerations about jobs as education and training needed, salaries or wages which could be expected and general job routine.

They met with groups during two 50-minute periods Tuesday afternoon in classrooms in the high school, in downtown offices and at Memorial Hospital. Some planned later "on the job" meetings with students to give them more information.

Students were split up into groups following a general assembly held in the Washington C. H. High School auditorium, at which they were given some guideposts

Meanderings

Some of the streets which went to pieces in spots during the winter weather, necessitated about as much driving from side to side to avoid the pot holes as the streets did a hundred years ago when many of them contained stumps of trees.

It was necessary for yokes of oxen, horsemen, and horsedrawn vehicles to make turns around some of the stumps until the stumps were finally removed, or decayed and vanished.

I have heard some of the old timers tell when there were stumps in Court Street, and that could not have been longer than 100 years ago.

Not only were the streets partly obstructed by stumps, but for sometime after the city was laid out, the streets, what few there were, had little or no gravel on them and they were virtually bottomless during the wet weather.

Little by little the importance of solid streets was realized and gravel applied so that most of the time the streets were fairly passable.

It is a good thing (or is it) that there were no automobiles back in those days of mud streets and stumps!

However I recall that it was the automobile and the demand for better and still better roads that lifted Fayette County out of the mud and eliminated gravel roads to a large extent.

I recall that the first real, honest-to-goodness all purpose stretch of paved highway in Fayette County was the Devalon Road, and it was built because it was the connecting link with Bloomingburg and officials at that time thought local residents were entitled to good roads rather than providing through roads for general traffic.

It was only a few years, however, until work of rebuilding the main through highways was under way and soon completed.

for their later group meetings in a talk by Dr. Samuel C. Marble, president of Wilmington College.

College President Speaks

Dr. Marble told them that they shouldn't be too concerned about making their occupational choices early. He said many great men train for one field then later change their minds and enter an occupation or profession which may be completely unrelated to their educational background.

As preparation for their life pursuits the students should do three things: (1) obtain a liberal education, (2) Get some work experience and (3) associate and get to know people you would like to be like.

Dr. Marble declared: "Nobody can educate you. All anybody else can do is to light that fire that will make you a great man."

Following the meetings with the various students, the consultants met in the library for a critique of "Career Day". They made suggestions of ways and means of improving "Career Day". One which gained favor among several was the suggestion that the meetings be held throughout an entire day to afford the students more of an opportunity to find out about their job interests.

Consultants were introduced to the student body on the stage of the WHS auditorium at the start of the afternoon program by Principal Arthur Wohlers.

Dawson 'Requested' For RFC Inquiry

WASHINGTON, April 25—(AP)—Donald S. Dawson, presidential assistant, today was "requested" to testify May 10 in the Senate investigation of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.) announced he has written Dawson giving him until April 30 to acknowledge the "request". Fulbright heads a Senate banking subcommittee which has been looking for over a year into charges that influence and favoritism have figured in RFC loans.

AP Bureau Chief Is Missing Mysteriously from Czech Post

LONDON, April 25—(AP)—William N. Oatis, Associated Press chief of bureau at Prague, has been missing since Monday and efforts to trace him have been fruitless so far.

The United States embassy at Prague told the London office of the Associated Press by phone today it had asked the Czech foreign office to help locate him.

Oatis, 36, is from Marion, Ind. He was first employed by the AP in 1937 and after working in the Indianapolis, New York and London offices, went to Prague last June.

One of two Czech employees remaining in the AP Prague bureau reported by telephone Oatis had not returned after leaving his office Monday afternoon and that

REDS KEEP SMASHING AHEAD

Republicans Demand Bombing of Red China Bases

WASHINGTON, April 25—(AP)—Republicans called today for the bombing of Red China bases.

Democrats questioned a report that Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway had urged use of Chinese Nationalist troops in battle.

Hot argument over the conflicting views of President Truman and Gen. Douglas MacArthur on how to fight the Korean war hit a new peak in Congress as a Communist offensive smashed at Allied lines some 10,000 miles away.

In the oratorical fight here, Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) proposed the United Nations be asked to approve aerial attacks on the Manchuria base "Sanctuaries" about which MacArthur complained before Mr. Truman fired him as Pacific commander.

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) asserted if the UN "ever is to be victorious in Korea," Chinese Nationalist troops from Formosa must be used in the battle against the Communist foe.

MacArthur had urged the use of Nationalist troops, air operations over Manchuria and blockade of the China coast. He told Congress it was his understanding that top military men—including the chiefs of staff—had shared his views in the past, from a military standpoint.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs, has made it clear, however, he agrees with Mr. Truman such measures for expansion of the Korean fighting might lead to World War III.

Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, MacArthur's chief adviser, tossed some flaming gasoline on this controversy. At a news conference in New York yesterday he said Ridgway had proposed to the Pentagon that Chinese troops from Formosa be sent into battle.

Whitney said Ridgway, who succeeded MacArthur in the Pacific commands, made this proposal "after analyzing the situation," evidently shortly after he took over field command in Korea.

Whitney quoted Ridgway as saying the Nationalists were needed to support his troops' military position, leaving unclear whether they might be sent into battle in Korea or on the mainland.

Whitney said all senior officers in the Far East favored use of Chiang Kai Shek's troops. Deputy Secretary of Defense Robert Lovett, declining to comment on any possible use of Chiang's forces, told a news conference 400 to 500 more men may be assigned to the U. S. military mission on Formosa.

On the issue of Chiang's troops, Senator Kerr (D-Okla.), No. 1 MacArthur critic in Congress, told reporters:

"I'm not chasing rumors from Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney.

"MacArthur was the man who wanted to expand the war. MacArthur was the man released from his command for insubordination and refusal to comply with orders. Let his speak before the Senate committee where he can tell his whole story and be cross-examined."

Rep. Perrill will be asked what the possibilities are for initiating legislation similar to that on the books in Michigan and Wisconsin.

The legislation requires national fund raising groups to register with the state and allocates the percentages of total state funds, which are to be raised by federated fund drives in various counties.

In another action, the Chest board gave Robert Brubaker, president during the first two years the Chest has been functioning here, a vote of confidence by reelecting him to the post.

The board members named Charles Reinke and Mrs. Marguerite Powell as co-chairmen of the Community Chest fund drive for 1951. Other officers named were: Allen White, first vice president; Grace Huston, second vice president, and Homer Bireley, treasurer. John Breiner was selected to serve on the board of directors.

Practically every fund raising group of any importance now outside the Community Chest was invited to "sit in" on the discussion about the possibilities of federating all fund drives under a single banner.

But only two responded—the Tuberculosis and Health Association through J. Paul Streyer, its secretary, and Mac Dews, who was campaign chairman last year for the annual polo drive. Dews said he could not be classed as an official representative but "just a citizen" interested in hearing about the proposal.

They each pointed out that their state and national headquarters oppose joining in federated fund raising groups.

The state and national leaders feel that their programs for educating the public about the way money raised in various drives is spent suffers when drives are lumped under one head.

The national leaders also claim that federated fund raising will not insure that the goals will be reached as readily as through separate drives.

Members of the board pointed out that campaign expenses can be cut, and merchants and others can be spared the separate visits of dozens of fund raising volunteer groups were all drives to be placed under one banner.

Will Raise $30,000
It was brought out that there is increasing opposition on the part of volunteers to soliciting for a half dozen or so campaigns. "The same volunteers are called on to work for each drive," one board member pointed out.

Another argument advanced for federated fund raising was that a more coordinated program could be planned for the community, so far as benefits from the drives was concerned.

One of the directors felt that $30,000 would be needed to take (Please turn to Page Two) increased production at existing mills matches the pace at which newsprint is being consumed.

In addition, foreign countries are seeking a larger share of Canadian newsprint and they have the dollars to pay for it. And increased exports to other markets can only mean less newsprint for the United States.

Allied Forces Pull Back--One Hole Is Plugged

Communist Horde Advance Is Made Over Piles of Dead

BY OLEN CLEMENTS

TOKYO, April 25—(AP)—Massed Communist troops crushed forward along the entire western half of a 100-mile battle front today in their third invasion of South Korea.

But to the east, counter-attacking Allied tank columns stopped the Reds in their tracks and even hurled them back at some points.

On the west central front, United Nations forces pulled back abruptly and broke contact with the Reds. The withdrawal was so rapid some rear elements were trapped.

One was ambushed by Communists wearing white civilian garb or the blue denim uniforms of South Korean supply bearers.

In the extreme west, Allies fell back in orderly fashion before swarms of Chinese, exploiting their Injin River crossing. They were less than 25 miles north.

South Korean capital out of which refugees poured in dust clouded columns.

A tank-led relief column fought its way to a trapped UN battalion south of Injin.

Some UN forces counterattacked as Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth Army commander, told his troops, "in three days of battle (you) have proven your superiority" over the 400,000 attacking Reds.

He expressed confidence the battle would be won by the Allies' "enormous superiority in fire power and all types of weapons, in fact a tremendous superiority in everything except numbers."

Reds Keep Pouring In

The bulk of the Chinese in the west were pouring down the Yonchon-Uijongbu invasion route. The Chinese also leads to Seoul. Allied fighter planes and bombers attacked them all day long.

The most abrupt UN pullback was to the east of this road, in the west-central sector. There the Allies broke contact with the Chinese just south of the 38th Parallel. Then they withdrew to new lines north of the threatened Seoul-Chunchon highway which approaches the capital from the east.

The ambush by the disguised Reds was sprung during this withdrawal, just east of the Kumhwa-Uijongbu road. Allied artillery and warplanes cut up the Reds. But field dispatches said at least three Chinese divisions were streaming southward.

AP Correspondent John Randolph reported the Reds made no frontal attack on the west central front. The only sound of battle came from Allied artillery and the roar of airplanes.

Allies Plug One Hole

Allied reinforcements and counterattacks plugged the hole on the central front. An estimated 100,000 Chinese, including big strapping fellows from the Manchurian plains, were halted seven miles south of 38.

A heavy Allied counterattack smashed into Reds pouring down the main road toward Chunchon. A fierce battle began early in the morning and still raged in mid-afternoon.

Southwest of abandoned Whachon, UN artillery blasted a path for a counterattacking column. Communists attacking Yangu at the eastern end of 11-mile-long Hwachon reservoir were stopped in their tracks.

Leap-frog Tactics

Red advances were made by leap-frogging one division over another. Fresh troops pushing through dead, wounded and fatigued Reds on the dusty battlefields.

Twice they cut off sizable Allied forces. Both times the Allies escaped with slight losses. First it was the Turks. Then the Belgians. Front line officers, like the top command, were confident. But not Korea's civilians.

They fled southward into Seoul, and again southward out of Seoul, in great dust-clouded columns. It was their third disheartened flight ahead of a Red invasion. Dust clouds were so thick it was sometimes impossible to see for more than 10 feet.

Combat soldiers were drenched, too.

They were fighting a new variety of Chinese troops. These were big strapping fellows. But like their predecessors they attacked with complete disregard of planes, artillery and rifle fire.

Price Rollback Order Issued

Controls Applied To Manufacturers

WASHINGTON, April 25—(AP)—Nearly one-fourth of the American economy today went under a single sweeping price order which the government said was designed to roll back "the general level of manufacturers' prices."

Price Director Michael V. DiSalle expects the factory ceiling, covering 75,000 plants, to wipe out part of the runaway price boom that followed the Korean invasion.

The country will find, DiSalle predicted, that his Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) has "not been playing pat-a-cake with prices"—that in the months ahead people will realize "the whole program is tougher than they have been led to believe."

OPS will follow up with three more major ceilings within a week. These will cover machinery, cotton textiles, and wearing apparel including shoes.

The new ceilings must be in force by May 28. Retail buyers will feel the effect later, depending on how long it takes for the new goods to reach retailers' shelves and showrooms.

Coverage Is Broad

This array "hard goods" including radios, television sets, refrigerators, washing machines, ranges, furniture, hardware, household appliances.

Many processed food and grocery items including breakfast cereals, crackers, cookies, macaroni, spaghetti, canned fish, potato chips, mustard, baked beans, pickles, peanut butter, sauces, seasonings, baking powder, candy, soup mixes, meat extracts, gelatin desserts, olives, yeast, and dog food.

A wide group of miscellaneous items including auto tires and tubes, many building materials (but not lumber or plywood, which are other-wise controlled), paper and paper products, rayon and some other textiles.

It covers, in short, all manufactured items except those named as exempt. The exempt list cover raw farm and forest products, fuels and power, and a variety of items most of which already are under separate price ceilings—autos, chemicals, tobacco products, lumber and metals, for example.

The United States Chamber of Commerce, in a statement, voiced confidence that manufacturers would "make every effort to adjust their operations" to the new ceiling.

Ohio Third in Nation

WASHINGTON, April 25—(AP)—Ohio ranks third in the nation in the expansion of defense industry, government records show. Ohio requests for tax benefits covering plant expansion projects show $376,336,000 spent for plant expansion, the defense production administration said yesterday.

inquiries at his hotel brought only the reply "Mr. Oatis is not here."

A telephone call to the Prague hotel from Frankfurt brought the same reply. One of Oatis' American colleagues in Prague said he was last seen going to an appointment with Rudolf Popper, foreign press chief in the Czechoslovak ministry of information.

This correspondent, Russell Jones of United States, reported that inquiries to Popper about Oatis' whereabouts brought "only very vague replies."

Jones reported Oatis had told U. S. officials in Prague last week he believed he was being "followed" 24 hours a day after the third of the A. P.'s Czech employees there had vanished.

Marriage of Rita and Prince Headed for Divorce, Is Report

Rita and Aly Kahn before romance hit the skids

NEW YORK, April 25—(AP)—Is it possible there may be no happy ending to the fairy-tale romance of Brooklyn-born Rita Hayworth and her Moslem prince charming, Aly Khan?

Rita's attorney, Bartley Crum, provided the post-script yesterday to the romance that blossomed on France's Riviera.

Asked about long-standing and oft-denied reports that Rita will seek a divorce from Aly, Crum declared:

"No decision has been reached yet."

That statement was the first time any one able to speak for the glamorous actress even admitted a split-up was under consideration.

Rita herself said there was "no truth" in divorce reports when she returned here from Europe on April 2.

But later, new talk of a rift between the prince and the princess was set off when Rita notified her Hollywood studio she was available for movie roles.

And now comes Crum's statement plus a report in the Chicago Sun-Times that the attorney is going to Europe to confer with Aly.

Crum refused to deny or confirm this report last night.

The Sun-Times said Crum would ask, for Rita, the custody of the couple's daughter, Yasmine, born Dec. 28, 1949, and not ask a money settlement.

Kickback Charges Denied by Brehm

WASHINGTON, April 25—(AP)—Rep. Walter E. Brehm (R-Ohio) returns to the witness stand today to complete his testimony on charges that he unlawfully took campaign gifts from two women employees of his office.

Brehm began his testimony in federal court yesterday afternoon with a denial that he ever got anything but "conversation" from Mrs. Clara Soladay.

Brehm conceded the 74-year-old widow contributed a total of $600 to his campaign funds in 1946 and 1947. But he said this was done without his knowledge and he didn't learn about it until early 1950.

Brehm's testimony today, Defense Attorney Leo A. Rorer said, will include a denial that the laymaker ever accepted any money from Mrs. Emma A. Craven, another former employee of his office.

Later, Rorer told reporters, Mrs. Brehm will take the stand as the final defense witness.

Fire Near Tokyo

TOKYO, April 25—(AP)—Fire last night destroyed 350 houses at the resort town of Atsuma, 218 miles north of Tokyo.

The Japanese press reported almost 1,800 persons were left homeless. No loss of life was reported.

Newsprint Scarce; Price Going Up

NEW YORK, April 25—(AP)—United States publishers are faced with higher newsprint supplies and higher prices.

The big Canadian mills, from which this country obtains 80 percent of its supply, are expanding facilities. United States producers are increasing their output.

increased production at existing mills matches the pace at which newsprint is being consumed.

In addition, foreign countries are seeking a larger share of Canadian newsprint and they have the dollars to pay for it. And increased exports to other markets can only mean less newsprint for the United States.

The American Newspaper Publishers Association told the story of supply and price at its annual convention today.

The cold statistics illustrate the situation best.

The actual United States supply for 1950 was 5,920,609 tons, ANPA reported, and consumption (Please turn to Page Twelve)

Bad Highway Cause of Crash

Two Springfield Women Injured

Two Springfield women were hospitalized Tuesday evening, as result of an automobile accident blamed on the bad condition of the South Solon and Jeffersonville Highway (Route 70).

They are: Mrs. Reynold Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Masson of Jeffersonville, and Mrs. George Jones. Mrs. Robinson's four-year-old daughter, Marsha, who was on the rear seat, escaped with bruises.

Mrs. Robinson sustained severe injuries about the head, and Mrs. Jones suffered a fractured knee and other injuries.

The Morrow ambulance removed them to Springfield City Hospital, where they are patients.

The accident occurred almost in the same spot where a Farm Bureau truck recently overturned as result of a bad place in the highway.

The Robinson car struck a bad hole in the surface of the road, blew a tire, and the car out of control, crashing into a culvert.

Many complaints are still being made over the condition of the South Solon-Jeffersonville Highway. The road is badly broken up following the severe winter.

'Numbers' Man Fined after City Police Hold Search

Charles Edward Easton was Wednesday fined $25 and costs by Police Court Justice Richard R. Willis on a charge of possessing numbers tickets.

Police arrested Easton about 10 P. M. Tuesday. He had no numbers slips in his pockets, and told police that if they wished to search his shoe shining place they were welcome to do so.

The police accepted the invitation, and found the numbers slips hidden in the place, located on South Fayette Street.

Attempted Burglary Of Service Station

Would-be burglars broke the lock on the main door of the Carl Preston Sinclair Service Station, corner of South Fayette and East Streets, about 10 P. M. Tuesday night but were apparently frightened away before they had a chance to rifle the place.

A hammer was used to break the lock, and efforts were made to pry the door loose before the lock was broken.

The door was found standing open. Nothing was missed.

Some discussion was held about the possibility of improving solicitations in the rural areas, Ellsworth Vannorsdall, who was a guest at the meeting, suggested that rural organizations such as PTAs, Granges and Farm Bureaus groups be used for the educational phase of the campaign, with individual Chest workers doing the soliciting.

William Freshour Seriously Injured

William Freshour of Washington C. H. today is in the Veterans Hospital in Dayton for treatment of a broken neck, fractured left ankle and a badly bruised right leg. His condition is regarded as critical, relatives here said they had learned.

Freshour was seriously injured Monday morning when the truck in which he was riding ran into the ditch and turned over on the highway between Hamilton and Cincinnati. Reports said he was pinned under the wreckage of the smashed truck for nearly an hour before he was extricated.

Freshour had only recently signed on as the helper for the trucking concern.

The truck was en route from Dayton to Texas.

Freshour was first taken to General Hospital in Cincinnati. Later he was transferred to the VA Hospital in Dayton. He is a veteran of the second World War.

rice" and he hoped his name "will never be used in any political way."

Whitney said if anyone raised the question, MacArthur would tell the questioner to "go home and read the Bible," particularly the part about "doubting Thomas" (St. Thomas).

(Thomas was one of the 12 Apostles. He refused to believe the resurrection unless he could feel with his hands the wounds left on the risen Christ by the cross.)

(Eight days later, after Christ reappeared and showed the proof sought by Thomas, the Apostle believed and said: "my Lord and my God.")

Whitney, refused to give further explanation, saying: "I'm not going to try to interpret the Bible to you. The general said it. To me, it's very clear."

Details of MacArthur's visit with Taft and Luce were scanty. The senator said he happened to be at the Waldorf-Astoria as a guest of a newspaper publisher and just paid a "courtesy call" on MacArthur.

Taft said he spent "10 or 15 minutes" with MacArthur.

Whitney said Luce also spent "10 or 15 minutes" with the general, calling at a different hour than Taft. Luce's visit also was described as "courtesy call."

Neither Taft nor Luce would say what they discussed with MacArthur.

Grain Market

CHICAGO, April 25.—(P)—Grains were unable today to extend the sharp upturn of the previous session.
Wheat ran into quite a bit of profit-taking as well as the customary hedgwheat off farms. Some early firmness was displayed by corn, but later corn joined wheat on the downside. Losses never were unduly large.

Financial Market

NEW YORK, April 25.—(P)—Stock prices hit the downgrade in today's market, then regained a bit of balance at lower levels.
Motors, steels and most of the utilities and oils were leaders in the early drift, but there was no urgency apparent in the selling. Trading proceeded at a quiet pace, in keeping with recent sessions.
Declines generally were restricted to less than a dollar a share. A few favorites in scattered sections of the list gained as much.

bove 55,000 feet altitude without

C of C Brochure Describes Variety of Industries Here

It won't be long now until the people of this community will have the visual evidence to back up their contention that Washington C. H. is somewhat of an industrial city as well as the hub of a rich and thriving agricultural section.

The Chamber of Commerce today is in the final stages of preparation of a brochure that will tell the city's industrial story in words and pictures.

The brochure, which probably will be made up eight to ten pages in booklet form, is to be in the nature of a souvenir program for the annual meeting of the Chamber June 6.

Plans for the brochure have been in blueprint form for some time. Now the pictures are being taken and the descriptive matter being assembled.

Thirteen major industries -- and no one around the Chamber feels that number is unlucky -- are to be given places of honor in the brochure. They turn out a wide variety of products from shoes and gloves to steel houses, with such essentials to modern life as electric motors, feedlot equipment, fertilizer, show cases and precision-made parts in between.

The cover, the design for which has been laid out, is to be an artist's sketch of the city's industrial products with an aerial photograph of the city in the center.

C. E. McCrley, the secretary of the Chamber, said "it's going to cost a little, but it will be worth the money."

Practical Value

McCrley went on to explain that the brochure could be used for the next several years to publicize Washington C. H. and show its value as an industrial center.

This will be the first time the city's industrial picture is presented in composite of single-package form, McCrley declared. It will give the people of Washington C. H. and Fayette County a better conception of what goes to make up the county seat city than they ever had before, he added.

Several of the companies represented already have indicated to McCrley that they would be interested in having some copies to give to their customers.

McCrley said the brochure would be invaluable as a selling argument for firms considering Washington C. H. for industry location.

The agenda for the meeting has not been completed in detail yet, McCrley said, but the broad outline has been drafted.

Highlighting the business session will be the election of five new directors to three year terms to replace those whose terms expire this year. The outgoing members of the board are Paul Dougherty, Frank Baker, J. Roush Burton, O. W. Landrum and Paul Anderson.

Joe Peterson, the president of the Chamber has appointed A. E. Weatherly, a former president, as chairman of the nominating committee. Others on the committee are George Campbell, Walter Rettig, Dr. Joseph M. Herbert and Robert Brubaker.

Street Signs -- Improved Rural Mail Boxes

Two needed improvements, one for this city and the other in the rural districts of this county, are being repeatedly mentioned by people.

One has to do with street signs in Washington, C. H.; the other is a call for improvement in rural mail boxes over the county.

Quite a number of years ago street signs were placed nearly all over this city. Now most of them are gone. They were at intersections, on small posts, some of which were knocked over or pulled down by thoughtless youngsters, others were put out of commission by reckless auto drivers.

Manana

MANANA is the day when the confirmed loafer hustles forth to land a job and the over-worked plugger takes a rest.

It is the day when the young son of the family cheerfully mows the lawn or sweeps off the snow, as the case may be, and the jitterbug daughter begs to be permitted to wipe the dinner dishes.

It is the day when innumerable bills are paid and countless deeds of sweet benevolence done.

It is the day when we quit fooling, get down to business and make things hum.

It is the day when neglected letters are written, frowzy heads shingled, new leaves turned over, gardens planted, good ideas tried out, screens put up or taken down, cars washed and the winter's supply of coal ordered.

Manana is the watchword of the weary, the slogan of the slumberer, the passport of the peless. It is remarkable for two things: the vast number of good useful and necessary things are scheduled to receive attention on that day . . . and the fact it never comes.

So if you're planning to do something to help your business . . . to promote something new . . . to start a new game . . . do it NOW! . . . tomorrow may be too late!

For MANANA means "tomorrow." —Exchange.

Now the city needs a complete going over with new signs. Nothing is more helpful to the stranger in our midst. Good street signs are an indication of civic alertness. Maybe some wide-awake local organization could help the city on this like the Lions Club at Bloomingburg has arranged to do there.

The week starting April 30 and ending May 5 has been designated as "National Rural Mail Box Improvement Week". It is hard to know whose idea this was, but it was a good one. There are hundreds of mail boxes in Fayette County which can stand improvement.

Like well kept city street signs, a well erected and painted rural mail box and post points with pride to its owner. It tells the highway traveling public that here is a home or farm owner who is interested in the way his farm buildings and surroundings look.

Placing of an approved end-opening rural mail box is urged by the postoffice department if one of the old type, badly battered boxes stands in front of a home. The mail box and its supporting post should be painted white or the box may be covered with aluminum paint. White posts can be seen at night and are not so likely to be hit by autoists.

The name of the box owner should be clearly inscribed on the side of the box. Not only the mail carrier but others hunting a farm owner will appreciate this convenience.

Washington will operate under daylight saving time, according to an act of Congress. That isn't the sort of economy the people are hoping for, however.

It takes two to make a quarrel except in international relations, when it can be any number.

There is a demand for return of the gold standard. Has a searching party been sent out to find it?

Now Grandma Is Streamlined

NEW YORK. —(AP)— Before the species dies out altogether, someone ought to go out and trap a real old-fashioned grandma.

And they ought to trap a real old-fashioned grandpa, too, and put the pair of them on exhibition in the American Museum of Natural History — somewhere between the dinosaur and the brontosaurus.

But I suppose it is too late. Are there any real old-fashioned grandparents left? If there are I don't see them anymore. No place, that is except in the magazine ads.

You know the type of grandma I mean. She's the dear old white-haired soul with the kindly look, sitting in a quaint rocking chair and putting the finish touches on a quilt. And remember the old-fashioned grandpa? He's the gentle character with the time-frayed moustache. He is seated by the fireplace. His cane is by his side, and a golden-haired tot is sleeping on his lap as the fine old fellow gazes with misty eyes into the dying fire.

Well, that's the kind of grandma and grandpa I was raised to believe in. But today they're about as legendary as Santa Claus. I have met a lot of grandparents recently, but none of them were sewing quilts or sitting by the fireside.

They have become streamlined —just like trains, airplanes and motor cars. The jet age grandma doesn't want to look like Whistler's mother. Her model is Marlene Dietrich, who is a grandma, too, but gets a little tired of having that fact mentioned so much.

Yep, grandma has done gone in for glamor and sex appeal. The only needle she knows is the one she gives grandpa for stopping off at a bar on his way home. She no longer has silver threads among the gold. She's a platinum blonde. And by golly, and by peroxide, she's going to stay a blonde!

She and grandpa won't hang out in the children's chimney corner. The younguns live with them, and grandpa usually pays the rent.

The big argument about the house now isn't whether the grandchildren should be spanked. It's about whose turn it is to stay home and baby sit-mother's or grandmother's?

"They're your kids," says grandma firmly. "You stay home and raise 'em. Your father and I are already 15 minutes late to our samba lesson."

Nope, grandma is done with diapers. She'd rather play canasta or talk about the foreign policy.

Recently I visited a household that has one of those golden-haired little tots that used to fall asleep on grandpa's lap. She was pretty begging her mother to let her stay up until midnight—"just this once."

"Why?" said the harassed mother.

"I want to see grandma come home," explained the tot.

And at a party I went to I spent an hour with a couple of these streamlined grandmas. One was teaching the other how to blow smoke rings, and all they discussed was baseball and who would win the Kentucky Derby.

Gave me kind of an eerie feeling too.

You don't think grandma and grandpa are stepping out?

"Listen," said a night club operator, "if they passed a law that grandmas couldn't come out after dark I'd have to close up this joint."

When the wolf knocks on the door where Red Riding Hood's grandma lives, he isn't coming for a free meal. He's got a date.

Dictionary On Americanism

I often wonder what drives a scholar to do such a job as the production of "a dictionary of Americanisms on historical principles." The two volumes consist of about 2,000 pages and deal with words which have been added to the English language in the United States.

Having heard a Damon Runyon story on the radio and being an occasional guest at Lindy's on Broadway, I looked for "Bagel" and even for "Beigel." I could not find it, nor could I find Lox, which disturbed me no end. For if Broadway is not America, then Bagel and Lox are not Americanisms. I know that some go for hot dogs and some for chile con carne, but on Broadway, it is Bagel and Lox from city hall for more than 15 miles to the Henry Hudson bridge.

Instead of Lox, I found a definition of a Lucy Stoner, which is a gal who, although married, insists upon using her maiden name, to everybody's confusion. Nobody knows how to address an invitation to a Lucy Stoner and her husband, and when the wife is more famous, the poor husband goes through life as Mr. Lucy Stoner.

This dictionary marks "free lunch" as obsolete, which is altogether true. The only thing free in the United States is the air we breathe, and the beauty of the sky. Yet, the very phrase, "free lunch," raises a nostalgic tear. Very young people will never know how good a free lunch could be and that it was actually free and came with nickel beer. And the beer was full and rich. Those days are over and now we pay for everything.

Well, I looked through these fat volumes of an evening when I sought escape from such speeches as General Omar Bradley delivered in Chicago. No military man can possibly believe in a stalemated war and I could not help wondering why a fine man like General Bradley would say such a thing. Funny, the things that happen to a man in high office!

So I found that "Hail Columbia" is a synonym for the expletive, "hell!" And that took me back what seems to me to be a century or two when women used to say politely, "I'll give him Hail Columbia!" That was to avoid saying such a bad word as hell. Imagine what those sweet ladies would have thought if they heard what President Truman said about Drew Pearson and the kind of words that have to be used to get a good curtain on a second act. Maybe words don't count, but when I saw, in this dictionary, that a half-dollar is worth 50 cents, I wondered what the book is talking about. Now, anybody knows that a half-dollar won't buy in 1951 anything like 50 cents in purchasing power. Nobody knows what a half-dollar is worth today. It's always going down when you go to a store. Used to be that a family could get plenty to eat for half a dollar; there was a time when a good workman got a dollar a day and a full dinner pail.

It would seem from the record that it was back in those days that immigrants from all over the world steamed into this country because conditions were so favorable here, compared with the countries they came from. Life was pretty good here and we were a friendly folk and thought that one man was as good as another. Nobody worried about security in those days because nobody ever heard of it. A man took his chances with life and made his way as best he could, usually by hard work, long hours, thrift, and imagination. Some, of course, failed. But nobody knew about this thing called security, which, as we know, cannot be guaranteed by anyone or anything.

If you can afford to buy this book and want to enjoy an argument with your wife on how things started, get hold of these two volumes. They could be an antidote for canasta; they could be a respite from the Truman-Acheson government that reigns over us. You might even discover why those who want war call it peace. There is a little item in this book which reads: "In order to work the Negro with greater facility in the interest of Osborn and his gang, this secret league was named the Lincoln Brotherhood."

Diet and Health Undesirable Side With Antitotics

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

As our work with the antibiotics goes forward, we are becoming more and more aware that they may have what are known as undesirable side effects. One of the strangest of these is the encouragement which the antibiotics seem to offer to the growth of fungi that are known to exist in the body along with germs. It has been noted that when mixtures of germs are exposed to various antibiotics, those susceptible to the antibiotics are killed, but the remainder grow more abundantly than ever, perhaps because they have a free field.

The same thing is apparently true of a yeast-like parasite, known as monilia albicans, which normally exists in the mouth, bowel, and on the skin of healthy persons, but which ordinarily does no harm because its concentration is not great.

Developed Symptoms

Recently, however, a number of persons have been observed who developed symptoms from this cause after being treated with penicillin or aureomycin. Apparently the germs killed off by these medicines served previously to keep down the growth of the parasite. Once the germs were out of the way, it could multiply rapidly enough to cause harmful effects.

Such patients have sore mouth, so-called "hairy" tongue or black tongue, and cracking at the corners of the mouth. A number also developed persistent diarrhea after treatment with penicillin, aureomycin, or chloromycetin. In these patients, the monilia albicans was found growing abundantly in the stools.

Twenty-five persons with symptoms of this kind have been observed. In some there was infection of the mouth and esophagus; in others, of the intestinal tract and, in still others, of the lungs.

Sore Throat

In those patients with mouth symptoms, the usual course of events was for treatment of sore throat to have been carried out by means of antibiotics. The infection of the throat cleared up, only to be followed in from 24 to 72 hours by burning tongue, mouth, and throat. The tongue was thickly coated, often with an overgrowth of the little projections of the tongue called papillae. This gives the appearance of a black or hairy tongue. Later, this coating sloughed off, leaving the tongue dry and swollen, with a beefy-red color. There is also some change in the sense of taste.

Should these symptoms occur following treatment with one of the antibiotics, it is important to make cultures to determine whether or not the monilia albicans is causing the difficulty so that the condition may be promptly treated. The parents must not look to the physician to give antibiotics for minor complaints, but they are employed only when the need for them is quite severe.

Dear Sir:

We just can't believe what they are saying about Ohio businessmen at the state legislature in Columbus.

The vast majority of businessmen and other citizens of this community, we firmly believe, are civic-minded individuals who have faith in our public school system and want it continued as the backbone of our freedom.

However, members of the state legislature have been given the impression by the Ohio Chamber of Commerce that Ohio businessmen are opposed to meeting the challenge which faces our Ohio schools. It was brought out however, that the views of Ohio Chamber of Commerce are not necessarily those of the local chamber.

The local chamber of commerce, so far as it is known, has not expressed itself as against the minimum salary bill for teachers.

Briefly, this is the situation: 380,000 additional youngsters are going into Ohio's schools during the next five years. This calls for thousands of added teachers, but even now there is a critical shortage of elementary teachers.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, April 25 —(P)—By this time you may be thoroughly puzzled about the the RFC -- the Reconstruction Finance Corporation -- and where it stands now.

A Senate investigation of the agency made many headlines. The RFC may get into the headlines again, and probably will. This is an explanation of what has happened and what lies ahead.

In the depression days of 1932 RFC was created -- while Herbert Hoover was president -- and was intended as one of the means the government could use to get business going again.

It has been making government loans to businesses, particularly small ones, which for one reason or another have had difficulty getting them from the usual sources, such as banks.

Congress had various committees which watch the doings of the many government agencies. And the RFC comes within the province of the Senate's banking and currency committee.

This committee has a subcommittee, headed by Senator Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat, which had the special job of keeping an eye on RFC.

In the summer of 1949 Fulbright wanted from RFC the answer to some specific questions in his mind about the agency's operations. He wasn't satisfied with the answers he got.

So, in February, 1950 his subcommittee began an investigation of RFC but this didn't become sensational until the early part of 1951.

Then his committee's report alleged that some of President Truman's aides had used their influence on RFC to make loans to people in whom they were interested.

At the same time President Truman got from RFC a great bundle of RFC correspondence reportedly indicating that some members of Congress had used their influence with RFC, too, to get loans for people in whom they were interested.

Fulbright's committee in this midst of all this made a recommendation that the five-man board which runs RFC be replaced a single man, a chairman or director or boss.

Why? The subcommittee felt that under the five-man set-up--where a majority of the five can decide on the loans to be made--responsibility for everything that's done is too divided and that it's too easy for any one of the five to pass the buck.

President Truman sent a plan recommendation. Although there to Congress, in line with this was a lot of sentiment in Congress to wipe out RFC, and still is, the plan was approved, narrowly, in Congress.

When it was okayed, Mr. Truman nominated William Stuart Symington, to be the new one-man head of RFC.

(Symington, a St. Louis businessman, had come to work for the government after the war and held these jobs, one after the other: members of the surplus property board which disposed of the government's war surpluses; chairman of that board; secretary of the air force; chairman of the national security resources board.)

It was on April 17 that Mr. Truman said he had chosen Symington to head RFC. He is supposed to take the job by May 1. The Senate must approve his nomination, formally submitted yesterday.

But--this doesn't end the business. The Fulbright committee hasn't dropped its investigation of what RFC has done. It still is digging into White House connections with RFC, so there will be more on that score.

Further, it's going to check into those letters which congressmen wrote to RFC to help get loans for people in whom they were interested.

Meanwhile, there's still the chance that Congress may in the

Sanatorium Costs Heavier Last Quarter

During the last three months the cost per patient each day at Mt. Logan Sanatorium, Chillicothe was $5.79.

This was a small increase over the cost for the last quarter in 1951 when it was $5.47 per person.

The cost, it is pointed out, is about one third the amount of costs per patient in some other tuberculosis sanatoriums.

At a recent meeting of commissioners of the several counties using the sanatorium, Byron Rogers of Highland County, was named president, Presley Caldwell of Ross County, was chosen vice president, and W. G. Marsh, of Ross County, secretary.

The quarterly report submitted by Miss Vesta E. Yapple, secretary-treasurer, showed maintenance expenses were $39,708.51 during the last quarter.

Counties, their patient days and costs were:

Adams, 18, $104.39; Fayette, 683, $3,960.99; Highland, 794, $4,604.73; Jackson, 837, $4,854.10; Pike, 501, $2,905.50; Ross, 1,661, $9,632.81; Scioto, 2,353, $13,645.99.

In 1900 American farms produced each year about one sixth of the value of their land and equipment. By 1950 they were producing annually almost a third of the value of the farms.

end abolish RFC altogether. This won't be handled by Fulbright's subcommittee but rather by the Senate's full banking and currency committee.

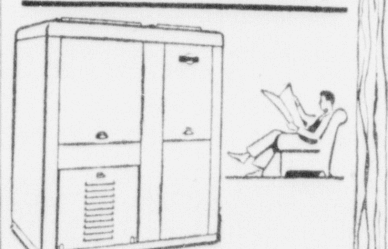

It is supposed to start hearings shortly on proposals to wipe out RFC. So even though Congress has approved a one-man boss of RFC, and even if the Senate approves Symington for the job, there is still the chance that RFC may be abolished. But that doesn't seem too likely at this moment.

Class Members Elect Officers At Meeting

Forty-one members of the Shepherd's Bible Class of First Baptist Church and one guest Mrs. L. B. Rogers, assembled at the home of Mrs. Thomas Cullen Tuesday evening for the regular April meeting.

Mrs. Kenneth Burnett, president, called the meeting to order and led in the impressive devotionals which was built around the topic "Impressions Jesus Made on Others." She read Scripture from the first chapter of Mark and followed with an article on the subject.

Roll call was responded to with a favorite Bible verse, and special reports included 139 calls made by members during the past month.

Rev. L. B. Rogers read a letter from a Burma Missionary and election of officers resulted in Mrs. Everett Arnold being chosen as president; Mr. Robert Bachelor, vice president; Mrs. Frank Reno, secretary; and Mr. Kenneth Chaney, treasurer.

A clever "piggy bank" filled with coins was presented the class by Rev. Rogers, which was in honor of his birthday on Tuesday.

The members gave Mrs. Burnett the outgoing president a vote of thanks for her loyalty to the class during her term in office.

Mrs. Richard McLean program leader led in the pledge of allegiance to the flag, and read some amusing articles and proverbs which provided much joy to the class members.

Mrs. F. T. McCarty, showed photographs of several of the members when they were small children which was quite amusing.

The program closed with an article read by Mrs. McLean entitled "So They Made War."

A tempting dessert course was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Howard Burnett, Mrs. Mark Mickle and Mrs. Florence Parks, and the members lingered for a pleasant social hour.

The girls presented Miss Flowers with a clever hat decorated with six miniature Camp Fire Girls, a tepee, a campfire and a miniature of the 1949 summer honor, a small replica of the Camp Fire laws.

The delightful evening, which was a "red letter day" for the girls was climaxed when they were treated to a late evening snack on the trip home.

As part of the program, the Farm Bureau Women's Chorus, which has won much favor in recent appearances, will sing two selections for the audience.

Speech Therapist Here

The high spot of the evening will be the address by Ruth B. Irwin, a specialist in speech and voice disorders.

This noted speech therapist, now identified with Ohio State University, has achieved marked success in her field. She holds degrees from Kansas State Teachers College, an MA from the University of Iowa, and a Ph.D. from the University of Southern California.

She has taught speech correction in colleges and universities in Iowa, Nebraska, Washington and Ohio.

She has directed numerous clinics and was state supervisor of speech and hearing therapy in Ohio while associated with the state Department of Education.

Since 1949, while identified with Ohio State University, she has been in charge of clinical training in speech correction.

Mrs. Irwin belongs to numerous professional and scientific organizations dealing with speech, hearing and psychological work and has written numerous articles for both professional and popular journals.

A chairman of the Ohio committee on speech and hearing at the White House Conference, she prepared the report of the committee.

Speech Handicap Program

Mrs. Irwin's coming here has been arranged by the Crippled Children's Society in the hope of introducing a program in this community for more specialized attention to children who are handicapped with physical defects in talking. The society hopes to interest some teachers in taking special instruction in this work with a view to training others to help children suffering with this handicap in the city and county.

Teachers, PTA organizations, members of the Mother's Circle and Child Conservation Leagues in this city and county and all other organizations interested in child welfare especially are urged to attend this meeting.

Parents of children with any speech handicaps are particularly invited to attend. They will be given information as to what they can do, as well as the teachers, to aid in the training of children who come under this category.

Andrew Craig Is Speaker at Rotary Meet

Rotary Sponsored Boys Report on Youth Conference

Three young men spoke before Rotarians and guests at the Country Club Tuesday noon and presented a program of unusual interest.

Two of them were high school boys who reported their observations while attending the Fifth Annual Youth Conference on World Affairs, held at Cincinnati, recently, Fred Brandenburg and Barry Smith.

The other was Andrew Craig U. S. Resident Officer at Stuttgart, Germany, who gave a rather comprehensive picture of the setup of the allied high commission in Germany and of duties of the civilian officials representing this country in the American zone, with respect to their administrative relations with the present German government.

Dr. S. B. Smith who represented the Washington Rotary Club in its sponsorship of Barry Smith and Fred Brandenburg and who had accompanied them in their attendance at the Cincinnati youth conference, introduced both boys.

Each of them contributed their views and impressions of the trip and of the program. They told of the many noted speakers they had heard and in some instances made comments on the talks which proved that the boys had listened well and learned much.

Both boys were thanked and complimented by President William Himmelsbach.

The theme of all addresses they heard, appeared to be views on how to bring about international understanding and world peace.

Ronald Cornwell introduced the last speaker, Andrew Craig, who had appeared before the club about two years ago with an interesting account of his observations in Germany at that time.

Since then, there have been many and varied developments in Europe and Craig's careful explanation of what he saw in the present situation in Germany proved even more interesting than his previous talk.

Being under the restrictions of government policy as to what he could say publicly, he was careful in his choice of words and in avoidance of discussion of highly controversial matters.

The German Problem

He talked freely of the attitude of America and the European democracies in their work in Germany, declaring that the overall plan was to help Europe to bring about a return of stabilization and enlightenment; to prevent a repetition of events of 1916 and 1939.

Craig said that the chief problem in Germany was to interest people in active participation in their own government; to make them realize that failure to run their own affairs could lead only to some other power taking over control.

He spoke highly of the discipline and intelligence of German citizens and said they could become a powerful force in standing out against any efforts toward Communist domination.

He gave a lucid picture of the efforts and duties of the American government's civilian representatives who are seeking to help handle the situation, explaining that they are under heavy responsibilities.

The reconstruction problem in Germany, and in other places in Europe offers a great challenge to those who are pushing a forward-looking policy, he asserted. Germany is coming along in her constructive thinking, he said, but considerable more time is needed without violent upheavals, if the country is to accomplish what its friends hope it will do.

In conclusion Craig threw the meeting open to questions. They came rapidly and the speaker indicated that his recent years of experience enabled him to answer what he was permitted to, frankly and satisfactorily. Other questions he parried skillfully or candidly admitted he did not have the answer.

Previous to the featured program, the club heard birthday greetings offered to Victor Smith and Walter Patton, and listened to the routine announcements and introduction of guests.

Medical Society Service Outlined

CINCINNATI, April 25.—(P)—The president of the Ohio State Medical Association today declared, "The medical society should serve as family doctor to the community much in the way its members serve as advisers to the family."

Dr. E. O. Swartz, Cincinnati, said that local medical societies should inform civic groups in matters affecting public health and should "see that the Board of Health has adequately trained personnel and sufficient funds to do a good job."

He spoke at the opening session of the organization's House of Delegates, which is holding its annual meeting here.

Lions Beat Frankfort By Coming from Behind In Wild Last Inning

The Washington C. H. High School Lions pulled a 7 to 6 win out of the fire in the last inning of their baseball game Tuesday afternoon at Wilson Field in a story book finish.

After the Frankfort pitcher, kept the Lions under control for five full innings, but in the bottom half of the sixth the Lions pushed across five runs. They were still two runs short of a win when they came up again in the last of the seventh.

Roger Allen went in as a pinch hitter for Brandenburg and popped one over the first baseman's head for a safe hit. Dave Sheidler laid one down the third base line that Justice, the Wildcat third sacker, muffed and Pope, who was running for Allen, went to second.

After then fanned both Ted Shelton and Wayne Van Meter, and had two strikes on Ivan Blair when everything happened.

Pope suddenly broke for third and pitcher Ater threw to Justice who let the throw get past him. Pope went on in for home, Justice's throw to the plate went wide. Sheidler continued on around from first during this time and was able to make it on into home by the time the ball was retrieved. That gave the Lions their 7 to 6 win.

Blair started on the mound for the Lions and gave up three hits in the top of the third inning—two of them homers by Fleisher and Junk. He was relieved by Dale Orihood who gave six hits to the Wildcats before being relieved by Kenny Robinson in the sixth inning.

Frankfort piled up its runs in the third inning on the two home runs, and collected another in the top of the fifth on a single, a double and an error.

Three singles and a double in the sixth inning gave them three more runs for their scoring.

Third Game in Row Lost by Reds As Cardinals Edge Them, 3 to 1

By JOE REICHLER
(By The Associated Press)

The Cincinnati Reds managed by a 3-1 score yesterday to keep pace with their 1950 record. They lost to St. Louis for their sixth defeat in seven games -- exactly the record they had this time last year.

The Rhinelanders just refused to come through in the clutch and so were stung with their third straight setback. Willie Ramsdell, Harry Perkowski and Herman Wehmeier limited the Cardinals to seven hits, one less than the Redlegs marked up--but the Cards made 'em count.

In the seventh singles by Johnny Wyrostek and pinch-hitter Bob Scheffing ruined Leftie Max Lanier's shutout attempt.

The Cards notched a run off Ramsdell in the first and second frames and added another off Wehmeier in the seventh.

Singles by Peanuts Lowrey, Enos Slaughter and Stan Musial broke the scoring ice for St. Louis. The Missourians hiked their advantage to 2-0 in inning No. 2 when Solly Heums opened with a single, reached third on Pramesa's wild heave of Lanier's sacrifice, and hogged home on a double off the rightfield screen by Red Schoendienst.

Two singles, a sacrifice and a long fly counted for the Redbirds' final tally in the home half of the seventh, negating Cincinnati's run.

EVERY TIME Willie Werle saunters to the mound for Pittsburgh he increases Branch Rickey's reputation as a master judge of players.

It was back in 1949 that Rickey, then head of the Brooklyn Dodgers, offered $200,000 for the left-hand relief specialist. The Pirates disdained the offer. And is Rickey thankful. Branch, of course, is now general manager of the Bucs. Funny thing, Werle wasn't worth a plugged nickel in spring training. In some 30 innings he was manhandled for something like 40 hits and 20 runs. But once they started playing for keeps, he quickly began to look like a million bucks.

He's been in four of the Pirates six contests and Pittsburgh has won them all. He saved three and received credit for the other. The two games in which Willie did not see action, the Pirates lost.

Werle came to the rescue of starter Vernon Law yesterday, holding the Cubs scoreless for two innings to preserve Pittsburgh's 6-4 victory in Chicago. That made it 10 scoreless innings this season for the 29-year-old native of Oakland, Calif.

WERLE SHARED honors with outfielder Wally Westlake, who accounted for four Pittsburgh runs with a three-run homer and a clutch single. The homer was Westlake's third. Cub rookie Omar (Turk) Lown was the loser.

The victory tied Pittsburgh with Chicago for second place, a half game behind the National League leading Dodgers, who were beaten, 7-4, by the Boston Braves in Brooklyn. The Cardinals edged into the first division with their 3-1 win over Cincinnati in St. Louis. The Phillies handed the New York Giants their sixth straight loss with a 6-4 victory under the Philadelphia lights.

Bob Feller kept the Indians in first place in the American League stopping the surprising Chicago White Sox, 5-2, in Cleveland. Runerup Washington remained a half game behind, upsetting the Red Sox, 7-5, in Boston's Fenway Park. The defending champion Yankees, behind the four-hit pitching of steady Eddie Lopat, shut out the Philadelphia Athletics, 3-0 in New York, to retain third place. Detroit and the St. Louis Browns were rained out.

Lions Enter Baseball Tourney; First Game Is Slated for May 4

The Lions of WHS will meet the winner of the Marion-Newark game May 2 on the Ohio State University diamond in their first game of the central district high school baseball tournament. The game is to start at 4 P. M.

Drawings for the tournament were held Tuesday evening at Bexley. Coach Fred Pierson represented Washington C. H. High School.

He was accompanied to the meeting by Harry Townsend, the WHS basketball coach, who attended the district basketball coaches meeting. Principal business before the basketball coaches was the selection of officials for next year's cage tourney.

Twenty-two teams were entered in the baseball tournament, but only half of them will play in the first round of games.

The Lions of WHS were among the 11 teams that drew a bye for the first round.

B&PW Plans for COUNTRY Courts State Meeting

Delegates Chosen;
Talk on Hawaii Given

Sponsorship of the Blue Cross hospitalization drive, selection of delegates to the state convention and preparation for the annual election of officers were chief items of business taken up Tuesday night at a meeting here of the Business and Professional Women's Club.

On the strictly entertainment side, Ray Brandenburg presented motion pictures of a trip which he took to Hawaii.

Brandenburg told the club members that the polygot population of the islands, made up of many nationalities all living together in peace, is a splendid example of how people can live and work in harmony in the world today.

Club members voted to again lend their support to the annual Blue Cross Hospitalization insurance drive.

Twelve delegates and eight alternates were named to represent the club at the annual state convention in Cleveland May 18, 19 and 20.

Those named as delegates were as follows: Norma Dodd, Jean Everhart, Mrs. Helen Graham, Mrs. Dorothy Miller, Mrs. Mildred Rogers, Mrs. Sauer, Mrs. Lillian Trueblood, Frances White, Mrs. Wanda Wilson, Mrs. Fern Chaffin and Florence Cook.

Chosen as alternates were the following: Mrs. Nellie Chadwick, Mary Jo Cullen, Mrs. Urcel Hays, Elizabeth Horney, Ruth Sexton, Mrs. Mary Belle Shoop, Mary Frances Snider and Mrs. Marie Williams.

Named to a nominating committee which will prepare a slate of officers for the club were Jeanette Haver, chairman, Mrs. Dorothy Miller and Gretchen Darling-ton.

Jean Perrill, who was chosen Girl of the Month, was introduced by Mrs. Loretta O'Brian, who is acting as education chairman.

Miss Perrill is a member of the Y-Teens Club, Future Teachers and the National Honor Society. She is activities editor of the Sunburst staff and has been a member of the high school band for five years. She took an active part in the Junior Class play, the Theatrical play and the Senior Class play.

Miss Perrill thanked the club for the honor of being chosen girl-of-the-month and gave her plans for future education.

The membership chairman, Ilo Larimer, announced the names of Mrs. Norma Campbell and Miss Miriam Fite, who were voted on as new club members.

Mrs. J. Rankin Paul introduced Harry Beall, who spoke in behalf of the Community Concert Association drive for members this week. Beall represents the Community Concert Service which has its headquarters for this area in New York.

The membership committee, which was in charge of the program, consisted of the following: Miss Ilo Larimer, chairman, Mrs. Mildred Rogers, Mrs. Emma Roush, Mrs. Mildred Fent, Miss Amelia Pensyl, Mrs. Emily Coberly, Mrs. Gladys Ramey and Miss Alta Barr.

The speaker, Ray Brandenburg, was introduced by Miss Larimer. She also introduced Miss Hazel Engle, Washington C. H. High School student, who played two piano selections. She played "In a Boat" by Zechner and "Military Pantomime" by Chopin.

Guests for the meeting included: Miss Arlene Hall, Mrs. Charles Sauer, Mrs. Evelyn Free, Mrs. Helge Throne, Mrs. Arthur Engle and Mrs. Ray Brandenburg.

4-H Club Nets $59 On Recent Scrap Drive

The Wayne Wonderworkers 4-H Club realized $59.22 on a recent scrap drive, according to a report made Monday night at a meeting of the group, held in the Wayne Township Hall.

The club members discussed color harmony and design in clothing. Refreshments were served by Mary Jo Hoppes and Patty McMurray. The next meeting will be held at Wayne Hall, with Peggy and Nancy Sollars as hostesses.

Rose Ave. PTA Picks Officers

Group Supports Teachers Pay Bill

The Rose Avenue PTA reelected Mrs. Warner Penrod as its president for another year at an election held at its final meeting of the year, Tuesday night.

Other officers chosen were as follows: Harold Minshall, vice president; Lee O. Ramey, second vice president; Mrs. William Melvin, secretary, and Mrs. Max Wilson, treasurer.

The meeting was opened with the singing of "When Johnny Comes Marching Home." Mr. Arthur Leeth led the group in prayer.

Mrs. Warner Penrod, president, then presented Stephen Brown, city superintendent of schools, who spoke on behalf of the teachers minimum salary bill. The Rose Avenue PTA went on record as favoring the passage of this bill.

Mrs. T. N. Willis gave an interesting report on the convention which she attended at Cincinnati.

The pre-school clinic will be held May 29, with Mrs. Ed Matthews as chairman.

An Arbor Day program will be held Friday, April 27, at 2 P. M., at the school, with the planting of a dogwood tree, given by the Washington Garden Club.

After the business was dispensed with, Lee O. Ramey, the principal, presented a group of children in a reading and expression class, which is a project of the school.

Philip Williams gave a recitation, "Johnny's History Lesson"; Opal Estel presented a poem, "So Was I"; Janet Willis gave a poem, "When Papa Was a Boy"; Nora Mann recited, "O'Grady's Goat"; Mary Lou Greer gave a poem, "The Service Flag"; and Mary Carolyn Knisley presented a poem, "A Perfect Day."

Mrs. George Pensyl, music teacher, presented the sixth grade sextet, offering three songs. Its members were Philip Williams, Dorothy Riley, Opal Estel, Nora Dahmer, Joyce Knisley and Kathryn Melvin.

Mrs. Al Conway then sang "The Holy City."

The program was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Plans for Bake Sale Made by 4-H Club

Plans for a bake sale, to be held April 28, were made at a meeting of the Kute Kookies 4-H Club, which met Tuesday night. Eight members were present at a meeting, conducted by the president, Barbara Parks. One guest, Wilma Brown, was present. The next meeting will be held at the home of Carol Leeth, May 8. Refreshments were served by Barbara Parks, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Raymond Parks.

Silver Thimble 4-H's To Hold Paper Drive

Members of the Silver Thimble 4-H Club decided to have a paper drive and a rummage sale. They met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. O. E. Bush.

They also decided to change the date of their meeting from Monday nights to Wednesday nights so that more of the members could attend.

The paper drive, to raise money for the club, will be held on May 5 and the rummage sale will be on May 19.

Next month's meeting will be held Wednesday evening, May 16, at the home of Roma Jane Clay.

Newsprint Scarce

was 5,936,941 tons.

The 16,332 tons more than supply came from publishers stocks.

And these stocks are dwindling.

The estimate of supply for this country in 1951 is 5,955,000 tons.

There is no estimate of probable consumption figures this year but at the end of 1950 publishing sources figured consumption was running about 6.5 percent above 1949 and production was gaining only about 2.8 percent.

The ANPA report said the spot market has few offerings and they are at prices far above contract figures, evidence that little tonnage actually is available outside of contracts.

There was no mention by the ANPA of a "gray market" in newsprint, but other publishing sources have reported purchasing small amounts of newsprint to fill urgent needs at more than $300 a ton.

This is far above the standard New York price of $106, which is the highest in almost 30 years.

The price of newsprint varies according to the location of the consumer, but the New York price of $106 reflects a general $6 increase during the closing months of 1950.

It compares with an all-time top of $120 in the 20's and a low of about $40 a ton in the depression years.

Burned Farm Home Not Built by Fabb

Mrs. Wilbur Bush of Jeffersonville called the Record-Herald Wednesday to explain that the house occupied by Charles Fabb, which burned to the ground Tuesday, was not built by Fabb's father as reported in an account of the fire Tuesday. She said the home was built by her husband in about 1917 and later sold to Fabb's father. The late Wilbur Bush worked in the office at the H. C. Henkle junk yard here for several years.

General's Son Facing Charges

Outgrowth of Crash Involving Rex Looker

As a result of an accident which caused the death of Rex B. Looker, of Washington C. H. and serious injury to five other persons Monday evening, a second degree manslaughter charge has been filed against Pfc. James A. Talbott, 23, Dayton, son of Brigadier General Nelson S. Talbott, Dayton.

Talbott, who sustained a fractured skull and was taken to the post hospital at Wright-Patterson Air Base, is alleged, to have driven his car into the main thoroughfare in front of the Looker car, and being responsible for the fatal accident.

Talbott is home on a furlough from Chanute Field, Ill.

Some of those injured when Looker was fatally hurt, are still in a serious condition in Dayton and Springfield hospitals.

They include Mrs. Frances Smith, Mrs. Donna Pollock, and Miss Verna Williams. Virgil Boyer, also badly injured, was brought to his home here.

The condition of Talbott was not learned, other than that he was supposed to have suffered a fractured skull in the accident.

The crash occurred a few miles from the Wright-Patterson Field Monday evening.
